

For Immediate Release
Media Contact: Allison Johnson
Director of Publicity, Snowmass Village
Phone: (970) 704-9988 Cell: (970) 309-5485
Email: aj@snowmasspress.com
Media Website: www.snowmasspress.com

MC Presents returns antiques show to the Snowmass Village Mall July 14-16

(Snowmass Village, CO) Fifteen years ago, the Snowmass Antique Show began coming to Snowmass annually to fill a need in the valley for high quality decorations and antiques. After a four year hiatus, Snowmass is pleased to welcome back the Snowmass Antique Show under the new management of MC Presents and Mary Nyholm-Vidano and Cynthia Brooks.

“If you live in a ski area, it can be hard to get this level of merchandise without going outside your area to look for it,” says Nyholm-Vidano who also runs similar shows in Jackson Hole and Sun Valley. “Here’s an opportunity to have it brought to your door. Virtually all the dealers have clientele in the Aspen/Snowmass area so it was natural to want to bring the show back. Snowmass has always been a great and well-attended venue.”

Forty highly respected dealers from a 12-state region will descend on the Snowmass Village Mall July 14-16 bringing goods ranging from estate jewelry to fine European and rustic contemporary furniture, to fine art, silver, textiles, vintage posters and more. Many have received national attention in publications such as Architectural Digest, Country Living, Ski Magazine, and HGTV’s Garden Series.

“These dealers are nationally recognized and very good,” says Nyholm-Vidano, “Some antique shows in this area are very expensive and not for every one. Most important to note is that this show has something for everyone.”

The Snowmass Antiques Fair runs from 9 a.m. to 5 p.m. on Friday and Saturday and 9 a.m. to 4 p.m. on Sunday and takes place on the Snowmass Village Mall. Also this weekend is Blast the Mass, the state championships for the National Off-Road Biking Association (see associated press release), so come check out all the action & antiques in Snowmass!

For more information, please contact Mary Nyholm-Vidano (303) 570-9763. For media information, please contact Allison Johnson at aj@snowmasspress.com.

#